

So You Want to Get a Tattoo...

Are you sure?

It's kind of a redundant question, but tattoos are fairly permanent. Sure they have the technology to remove tattoos, but even the best removal procedures are lengthy, expensive, and painful – so be sure. Very sure.

Get a Tattoo for the right reasons.

So you're not afraid of the pain or permanency, but are you sure you're getting a tattoo for the right reasons?

Four Reasons to Get a Tattoo

- You want to
- To commemorate a certain event or loved one
- They look cool
- You must "represent"

Four Reasons Not to Get a Tattoo

- To fit in with a new group of friends
- To impress your current friends
- You're incredibly drunk
- The moon told you to

So if you're still determined, and the moon isn't influencing you much this week, you're all set. Now all you have to do is pony up the cash and go for it.

Once you're done, let us know how it goes. Take some pictures and upload them to your profile and post a note in the forums, new tattoos are always welcome.
